PROPOSED GUARANTORS

As a general rule, Cascade Bank requires the following individuals to execute the promissory note or guarantees: (i) all owners of a sole proprietorship borrower; (ii) all general partners of a general or limited partnership borrower, (iii) any party with a 10% or greater ownership and voting interest in a partnership, corporation or LLC borrower. Additional guarantors may be requested if the credit of the borrower and the co-signers and guarantors listed above is insufficient to support the proposed borrowing. Spouses of the individuals listed above DO NOT have to sign the note or guarantees if the business is a separate asset of the signing spouse, or the business is a community asset and the spouse confirms in writing the community nature of the business, the assets on the signing spouses' financial statements, and the proposed borrowing from Cascade Bank. Spouses may sign the note or guarantees voluntarily under the above circumstances but their signature is NOT a condition to the borrower obtaining credit. Under all circumstances, Cascade Bank may require spousal signatures on security documents to the extent necessary under applicable state law to grant Cascade Bank a lien on the proposed collateral for the loan.
